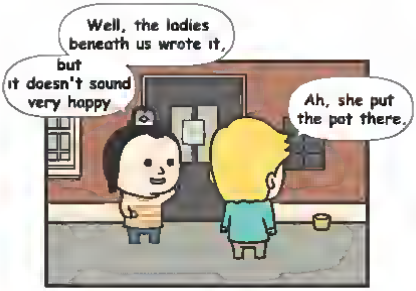
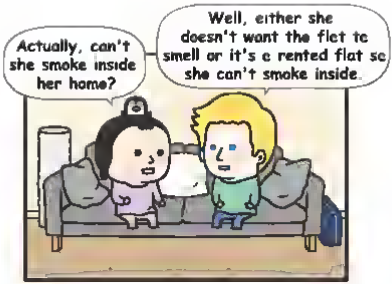
So we sometimes see that someone sticks o note complaining or requestiong things on the front door.



The replay said that she would keep smoking in the same place but put a pot there for the used cigarettes and look after it

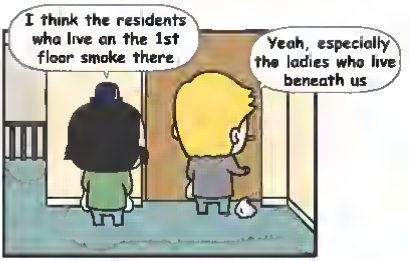
Also she said there is no right to tell her stop smoking and we've got to respect other people's life style
Haha Quite agressive....

And we could definitely feel that she was upset.

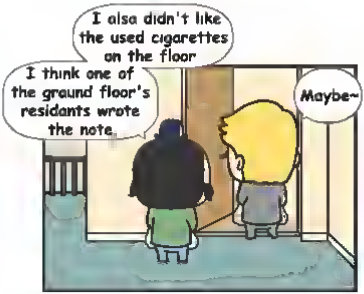


Actually, can't she smoke inside her home?
Well, either she doesn't want the flat to smell or it's a rented flat so she can't smoke inside.

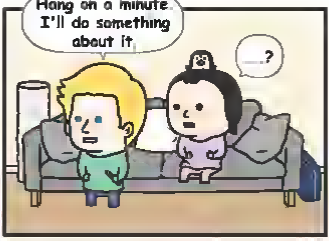
By the way, why does the person who complains write it anonymously?
I hope the girls don't think we wrote the note
Haha



We saw people smoking there a few times.



Then it seemed that someone didn't like it very much.

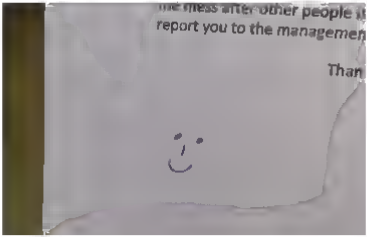


After a while,
Mev grabbed a pen and went down.

I was wandering what his plan was,
so I followed him.

Finally, he picked up a pen.

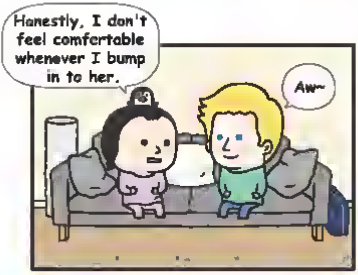
Our home is a flat.
Which means that we share the building with other people



[Friendly~ friendly~]

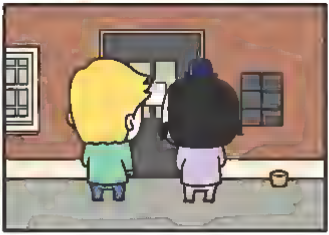
Smile~

You know, once we complained to them about the noise in the night.



Honestly, I don't feel comfortable whenever I bump in to her.
Aw~

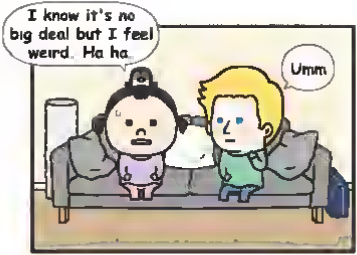
Why? What are you going to write?



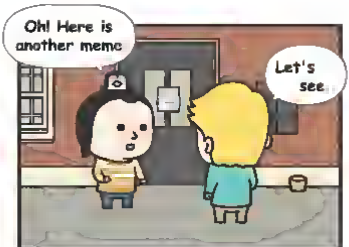
A few days later again.

Oops. This isn't finished. This anonymous note says she has to get rid of the pot, or he would report it to the management group
They couldn't find an agreement

We saw a strongly worded reply again.



I've had a bad experience with the residents beneath us already, I wasn't very comfortable with the situation.



A few days later,
we could see one of smokers
had put up a reply.
